Information Event

This week five former students returned to school to come and complete a Human Library event in the Guggenheim classes. They each went to class to share their experiences since leaving school and share their successes with us. The pupils are either currently completing apprenticeships, working or in college. We are really proud of the successes of these pupils and are so pleased they were able to come back to school to tell our Guggenheim classes what it is like to leave school and move onto new opportunities.
