NEU Strike Action - Wednesday 5th July & Friday 7th July

You may be aware that teachers in the National Education Union (NEU) have decided to take further strike action on Wednesday 5th July & Friday 7th July.

Once again I want to reassure you that we are planning ahead and to let you know that we will need to implement a partial closure of The Iffley Academy based on expected staffing levels on those days. We appreciate that this will cause disruption to families, however we want to give you early notice of the potential implications.

We will confirm arrangements for Wednesday 5th July & Friday 7th July 2023 no later than Friday 30th June to give you an opportunity to put in place alternative childcare on this day if necessary.

Many thanks for your ongoing support for our community.

Autism Questionnaire

We have been contacted by York University to invite Iffley Academy parents to take part in a psychological study examining the experience of parents and teachers of students with autism in support system availability and quality. This study is being undertaken by Teresa Hoy who up until recently worked at Iffley Academy as a teaching assistant. Please click here for more information on the study.
