

BARDWELL SCHOOL | WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

17th January 2025

Our Values:

Kindness

Aspirational

Collaborative

Equality

Individuality

Trust

This newsletter is more than a way to share updates; it is a celebration of the hard work, resilience and enthusiasm our students and staff bring to Bardwell every day.

Thank you for being part of our community and we look forward to sharing successes and events over the coming weeks of the Spring Term.

Warm wishes

Jo, Jade, Hayley and Karen

Staff Spotlight

Hayley – Assistant Head

What does your day look like? Every day is different, which is I love being at Bardwell. There's meetings, working with staff and interacting with students. Each moment is engaging and rewarding. One highlight is seeing our amazing students collaborate, share experiences and treat each other with kindness.

What are your hobbies? I enjoy baking, socialising and going on country walks with my family and our dog Chewy.

Student question from Jack: What is your favourite lesson to teach and why? I love teaching independent travel and shopping, as it helps to prepare our students for life after Bardwell.

We have had some exciting lessons this week!

- Pine Class have been learning about construction in the stone age and they have been making Stone Henge models out of clay!
- Beech Class had lots of fun in Art, exploring ideas by creating marks in dry flour/cocoa powder. They were making it wet and seeing what different marks they could make.
- Elder Class have been on a trip to the Garth Park Garden, park and café. Everyone had a great time together!
